Data Usage

2019-05-30 - Elyse - Comments (0) - News

Recently we have had several people let us know that they are having trouble with accessing the data usage information in Signal Spy. At this time, we think it may have something to do with an Android update and not Signal Spy. That said, we are looking in to the problem and will have a fix for you soon.

We will keep you updated via this News page, so please subscribe to get updates as they are posted.

Thank you for using Signal Spy!
